

ALAMY LOOKS TO HISTORY

www.alamy.com, 01235 844 600

Alamy has extended its range of archival material by adding the World History Archive to its repertoire of historical collections. Established in 1960, World History Archive represents a unique collection of pictures, says Alamy.

The collection covers all periods from Medieval, Victorian, Elizabethan, and contemporary times. The current figure of 5,000 images is expected to double by May. The images are available from the Alamy site.
