

Alamy reaches four million images

21st November 2005 - With content from over 5,500 photographers and 340 agencies worldwide, Alamy has reached its year end target of 4 million images online more than one month ahead of schedule.

Uploading an average of 200,000 new images to its web site every month, Alamy has added more than two million images this year. The company says that customers are responding well to the broad range of content available.

#

For more information contact:

Alamy Limited, www.alamy.com

Email press@alamy.com