WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?

CANCER & DNA RESEARCH

Our money has been used to fund Cancer and DNA research through SBL – a lab funded by our major shareholder Mike Fischer and his charity, The Fischer Family Trust. The lab is located on the ground floor of our UK headquarters and is run by an awesome team of super scientists.

SOLAR POWERED LAMPS

We've donated thousands of solar lamps around the world to help light up the lives of those in need. We've invested in solar lamps because they're safer, cheaper and more environmentally-friendly than the kerosene lamps that are commonly found in developing countries. Who have we helped so far?

- People in Haiti who were made homeless as a result of the earthquake of 2010
- Communities in Nairobi
- Communities across Southern India in partnership with One Million Lights

LOCAL CHARITIES

We like to keep it local and we regularly support charities close to our office in Kerala, India. Over the past few years we've supported a variety of causes including...

- Giving financial support to cancer patients
- Supporting local schools by providing computer facilities and financial aid
- Supporting students with learning difficulties by setting up a computer lab and funding hearing aids

What else makes us different?

OUR 100% STUDENTS INITIATIVE

We nurture new talent by giving students 100% of the money they make from the sale of their images. We work with thousands of students from across the UK, USA and Australia.

CYCLE TO WORK

We encourage our employees to stay fit and healthy and help us reduce our carbon footprint by cycling to work. We offer them the opportunity to buy a bike through the cycle to work scheme and over 40% of our UK employees are now cycling in every week!

About Alamy — We sell images. We add over 100,000 new images every day sourced from photographers and photo agencies in 173 countries. We pay our photographers higher royalties than our competitors and we take pride in our fair and ethical approach with our suppliers.
